

The Wizard's Homework

Future in the Past

Directions: Imagine that you are back in the past. You are ten years old and people around you are telling you what they believe you can look forward to in future. Write a short composition in which you describe your life back then and how you believed your life would be in future. Of course, you should use Future in the Past wherever possible.

As in all compositions, make sure that you have a good topic sentence, supporting details in the body and a summary or logical conclusion at the end.

Looking to the Future from the Eyes of a Ten Year Old

Anecdotes from the Past

1. Bill was going to meet Joe and others at Rock & Brews.	2. Grandpa wanted to teach the boy that pennies would grow into dimes when saved.
3. They were hoping to be together until they were old.	4. They were going to leave the shop without the bracelet, but the salesman gave it to them for free.
5. Columbus hoped that he would find India and other lands in the Far East.	